formal. The main question is whether the funds, specifically received for the maintenance of the chattram, and the temple, may be diverted to another purpose (in this case, for starting a School). Mr M. Venkatakrishnaiah in his letter, obviously refers to the fact that the Govt, in their Order abolishing the Annachattrams in the State, have recognised the principle that funds originally meant for a specific purpose can be diverted to more useful ~~purposes~~ beneficient objects, (specially when an institution maintained out of such funds, has ~~really~~ outlived its purpose.

2b) But there is a distinction. The Chattrams then abolished were Govt chattrams. The present instance is a case of private charity and as such, the original donor's wishes have to be respected. It is stated in the Office note above, that the question of taking over Mr Bakshi Narasimhaiah's institution, under Govt management is separately under the consideration of Govt. (Muzrai Section). If it comes about, it will be easier to dispose of this question.

the endowment shd be diverted to some purpose (however praiseworthy in themselves not intended by the donor. The Sundara Vilas School was not started or endowed by him - & therefore even (in Mr Venkatakrishnayya's words) surpluses of the endowment of a charity may be diverted to promote a better & more useful charity founded by the same donor", the diversion in favour of this School cannot be supported. Even if the Annachatram charities shd be taken over for the management of Govt; I do not think there would be justification for the transfer; all that Govt could then do would be to administer the Annachatram & Temple better

CHIEF SECRETARY'S OFFICE D. JAN 1927 EDUCATION BRANCH

Encl 3.

From

EV. SECTT. No. ..... To ... JAN 1927 D. SECTT

To

The Chief Secretary,
To The Government of His Highness
The Maharaja of Mysore, Mysore.

Sir.

I beg to enclose copies of two letters written to the School Committee by Mr N.Krishnaswamyrao granting a sum of Rs 10,000/-for the Saradavilas School Building out of the charities of his father. When a reference had been made to the Government about this and when a sanction of it had been prayed for. we received a reply No 9855, Edn 45-21-14b of 8-3-1922. (a copy of which is attached herewith)

The policy of the enlightened Government of Mysore seems to be that the surpluses of the Endowment of a charity by a donor may be diverted to promote a better and more useful charity founded by the same donor. Rao Bhadur Bhakshi Narasappa built the Temple, and the Chatram and also founded the Saradavilasa High School (Sanskrit). In this ~~High~~ School there are now more than a thousand boys receiving not only Sanskrit education but also English education up to the High School standard in English, Kannada, Urdu, Persian, and Arabic etc., Thousands of boys receive such education as will make them good and loyal citizens among the subjects of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore. This educational charity is decidedly better and more useful than the construction of the Temple and the Chatram. The diversion of the charity fund to the Saradavilas High School will, if examined, go to shw that it is a diversion to which the policy of the Government is not opposed. I shall shall quote an instance to prove this point. A lot of funds used to be spent by the Government of Mysore on many a Chatram, whose usefulness to day is not so great as it used to be. The Government have wisely diverted the Charity amount for more useful charities. The Government would be consolidating the foundations of this High School and make it a very useful Institution, if they permit this diversion of Funds.

I therefore beg the Government to reconsider their Order of March 6th 1922 and issue a new Order placing the amount of Rs 10,000/- out of the funds in favour of Bhakshi Narasappa's Charity with the Government of Mysore which is said to amount to upwards of Rs 20,000/- If this amount is placed at the disposal of the Education Department we shall begin the construction of the building at a cost of Rs 50,000/- and complete the building in the course of six months with the help and patronage of the Government of Mysore. On receipt of a favourable order plans and estimates of building will be submitted for the approval of the Department.
